Craig Churchill Promoted to Vice President of Manufacturing Operations at The Arthur G. Russell Company

BRISTOL, Conn. – September 6, 2016 – The Arthur G. Russell Company, Inc. (AGR), a leading provider of automatic assembly solutions, announced the promotion of Craig Churchill to Vice President of Manufacturing Operations. The announcement was made by Mark Burzynski, President of AGR.

“Craig exemplifies our core values and is a major contributor to implementing our growth strategy. His innovative thinking and vision will continue to enhance our growth and profitability” said Burzynski. “The promotion recognizes the strength he has brought to our leadership team. Craig’s deep knowledge of the industry will be instrumental in meeting the present and future needs of the company.”

Churchill joined AGR as the Operations Manager in 2013 and since that time has taken on increasing levels of management and responsibility within the organization. Prior to this role he held a Senior Engineering/Operations position at Engineered BioPharmaceutical. Previous positions include Vice President of Operations for Gaven Medical, Plant Manager for ICU Medical, and the Vice President of Engineering for Bio-Plexus.

He holds a BS-MIS from Eastern Connecticut State University and an AS-Engineering/Architecture from VTC. Craig is currently pursuing an MBA in finance and business law. He complements his formal education with extensive experience in the quality and regulatory fields, including ISO, FDA, and CFR.
